

Have you had a lifesaving organ transplant?

Have you or a member of your immediate family donated a lifesaving organ?

Are you looking to get active through sport?

Would you like to participate in a World
Transplant Games?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, then you are in the right place.

The World Transplant Games Federation gives recipients the motivation to strive towards full rehabilitation through exercise, camaraderie and healthy living. The main objective of the World Transplant Games is to demonstrate that people with transplants can compete in sporting activities and can compete well. These Games, on a much smaller scale, also allow donor families and living donors to get involved and be part of the celebration.
