

WTGF Social Media Guidelines

The World Transplant Games Federation aims to ensure its social media pages, including all affiliated Association and Event pages are safe and supportive places at all times. They aim to bring our community together to celebrate life, thank those who have made it possible, and to help recipients on their transplant journey.

The World Transplant Games Federation welcomes honest, friendly, and open conversation on our social media pages and we reserve the right to remove content or discussion posts which are not in line with these guidelines. Responses will not always be provided as to why posts are deleted.

We reserve the right to delete content that;

- Is deemed offensive, abusive, defamatory, objectionable, spamming, inaccurate, false, misleading, misrepresentative or off-topic from the original post;
- Damages or diminishes the reputation of The World Transplant Games Federation and/or any of its events or programs;
- Causes insult, intimidation or humiliation to World Transplant Games Federation members, the organization, sponsors, staff and volunteers.

The World Transplant Games Federation does not allow advertising of other businesses, campaigns and/or advocates without prior approval. Please do not share or tag other pages/groups/businesses that are offering the same services as ours and/or do not align to the position of the World Transplant Games Federation. We will only allow groups and pages that are run by health or sports professionals or like-minded organisations to be shared, following a review to understand the values of those groups or pages. Those who are continually detrimental to others' enjoyment of our social media pages risk being permanently removed.

As a Charitable organisation governed by UK Law, The World Transplant Games Federation is obliged to uphold standards expected of us and our members. While we welcome open discussion around organ donation policy, we ask members to consider that public criticism of organ donation policy can undermine public confidence in organ donation and the goals of The World Transplant Games Federation and may be removed from our social media pages at our discretion.

Thank-you all for your support.
